Shadow is a cross husky/malamute/german Shepard he is one years old very loveable but very excitable. He loves the fuss and because of his breed he likes a lot of excercise. When he goes on walks he needs to stay on a lead as if he runs he will not stop and if he sees a cat or anything he will chase it. He loves children and other dogs. He needs someone who will be around a lot of the time and give him attention. We got shadow for company for my other dog but it turns out my other dogs just wants to be left alone and gets irritable with shadows excitement that my other dog is starting to nip at shadow so I feel it's not fair on.
