Nigel is a friendly extrovert sulphur crested cockatoo. He can say "hello", "you ok?" and "you alright?". He has been handled and will climb up and down his cage, hop along the floor and dance to music.

Due to my expanding family and work commitments I do not feel I have the time he deserves.

Ideally, he needs to have an owner who has experience of parrots or birds preferably a male owner who is able to give him the attention he deserves.

Nigel comes with his own cage, an abundance of toys, water and food bowls. He does love a cardboard box in the bottom of his cage which he will make holes in and destroy.
