I have a beautiful tiny 9 week old shih tzu baby boy. We have not had him long but unfortunately my partner's health has took a bad turn. We can't give him the attention he deserves so heart breakingly we're having to find him a new forever loving home.

He has had first vac, is microchipped and has been wormed to date. He has a clean bill of health from the vets.

He is a very loving and playful puppy and loves to snuggle up with you and give you plenty of puppy kisses.

He will leave with his crate, bed, toys, water bowls and big bag of food.

Pictures don't do this beautiful little boy justice. First to see will fall in love with him. No time wasters please. I'm not rushing to home him with just.
