

Shar Pei Dog (150 GBP)

we have had him for sale before then decided to keep him however he likes company and we are not always able to offer this due to work commitments. He is loving but can be excitable so would not suit families with babies or small children. He loves his walks and would make a great companion. He is house trained. He has his jags up to date and is microchipped so I would need to transfer this through email as this is the way it is done now. He is 15months old. Please call and ask any question I am happy to answer. Any reasonable offer shall be considered. It is more important he gets the right.
