Please note - this is sold as a collectable item rather than a fully functional household product.
This kettle has been in the family since the late 1960s to my recollection.
It is in great cosmetic condition and works to heat water. The cork seal at the base does have a slow leak however. Has some very minor dings to chrome body.
Will be supplied with the original mains cable (but has not been PAT tested so should not be assumed to be electrically safe.
Collection is possible from Stechford Birmingham
Local hand delivery is possible to most areas of Birmingham for &pound
