CORPORATE ART CONSULTANTS, (Dealer, Agent, Manager, Art Law). We are always looking for "art with a wow factor" and "staying power" that can translate to corporate placement. There are good opportunities for artists to sell or rent their artwork to corporations.

Art Work in a corporate collection gives an artist exposure to a potentially wealthy sector of society, including potential collectors with the means to buy and may even result in greater sales.

OK Artists, first, the good news: you can always sell your artwork. Whether you sell well now and want to sell more, want to expand international sales to ASIA (CHINA, JAPAN), and/ or you're just starting out and looking for ways to take your art public, we're right here and I can help. We will show you how to distinguish your art to corporate Art Buyers as an essential asset worth owning, and most importantly, how to keep people and corporations buying. Believe it.

We are professional Art Consultants with over "thirty years" in the business and know what we are doing in the Business of Art. We will analyse, assess and advise on your approach, your prices, your website, how you organize and present your art, your statement, and your other written materials, how you position yourself, how you talk about your art, how to advance toward your goals-- whatever those goals may be-- and more. When people and corporations see your art and like it, be ready to turn that "like" into action-- the kind of action that gets you gallery shows and corporate sales.

Want to get more shows? Want to sell more art better? Want to sell to corporations and corporate art buyers? Want to sell to international markets? AIA, MIA, and USA, and the next step is...

Applicants must submit a CV (Curriculum Vitae), headed by a statement of interest in career, professional portfolio or artwork and exhibition experience, if available.
