I'm selling my 2002 1 Litre Vauxhall Corsa SXI 16V with full cloth interior. Its very cheap on fuel, fills up on about £35 and its also very cheap to insure.

It only has 99000 miles which is about average according to auto trader. The miles are all genuine and can be verified. This car has been very loved and well looked after car over the years.

It was serviced regularly through out its life time and drive like it has. It currently has has MOT until July 2018. The gearbox is very neat and tidy, and has short transitions between gears. The clutch is spot on as well.

Other features the car has are things like fully functional electric windows, electric steering which makes it very easy to drive. It has a great sound system, the standard factory radio has been taken out and replaced by a radio that plays MP3, CDs and has an auxiliary cable as well.

It starts first time every time with out fail or fault and the air con heats up and cools down almost instantly. Its very clean inside and the cloth interior is in mint condition and has next to no dents or marks on the body at all.

It also had very good tyres as it has barely been driven since the last MOT.

It has no knocks or sounds that are out of place coming from the engine at all which is common issue with these little cars. It sounds smooth and drives amazing. It has been tuned for pizza deliveries and has always been very reliable.

Would be very good as a cheap run around or as a first car for someone, as its very cheap on insurance and also cheap to maintain.

Its a great car little car with an MOT nearly half a year. It starts first time every time and is a good runner that's ready to drive.

I'm confident the first person to view it will buy.

I am open to offers. I happy to drop the price for a quick sale.
