White, 3 owners, 2 seats, This one has Akrapovic silencers, crash protectors, and a tail tidy. This is like no in-line-four cylinder sportsbike ever produced. Itâ€™s simply sensational. The Yamaha R1â€™s ultra-short-stroke engine has a cross-plane crankshaft, with its crank pins set at 90 degrees and has irregular firing intervals, which is technology lifted directly from Valentino Rossiâ€™s factory YZR-M1. At a standstill the motor spins up like a two-stroke and on the move the R1â€™s ability to accelerate, no matter where you are in the revs is astonishing. Thanks to the clever engine design it grunts off corners like a V-twin, while giving superb feel through the rear tyre, and howls along straights like the mad, bad in-line-four it really is. Best of all it sounds just like Rossiâ€™s M1 at full chat. The North Westâ€™s Finest Family Run Business, £7,250 p/x considered
