This one day workshop offers a 'hands on' practical experience to the construction of a dry stone wall. It will be suitable both for complete beginners and those wishing to practice existing dry stone walling skills. Participants must be 16 years of age or over. The course will introduce you to or expand on existing knowledge of the heritage and craft of this traditional building method. You will be given an overview of the fundamentals of the construction of a dry stone wall and other features and finishes, such as squeeze stiles and cheek ends.

During the workshop you will construct a dry stone wall whilst learning about the different geological shapes and sizes of different materials, engineering terms, and descriptions and uses of varying types of stones.

By the end of the course you will be able to safely and confidently set about constructing a dry stone wall or a basic landscape feature and will have an understanding of dry stone wall heritage, terminology, materials and their uses.
